In sixteen and twenty the Mayflower sailed,
Its Compact a new kind of government hailed.

Poetry I

Some One

Walter de la Mare

*Some one came knocking
At my wee, small door;
Someone came knocking;
I'm sure-sure-sure;
I listened, I opened,
I looked to left and right,
But nought there was a stirring
In the still dark night;*

*Only the busy beetle
Tap-tapping in the wall,
Only from the forest
The screech-owl's call,
Only the cricket whistling
While the dewdrops fall,
So I know not who came knocking,
At all, at all, at all.*

Poetry II

The Lake Isle of Innisfree

William Butler Yeats

*I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree,
And a small cabin build there, of clay and
wattles made;
Nine bean-rows will I have there, a hive for
the honey-bee,
And live alone in the bee-loud glade.*

*And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow,
Dropping from the veils of the morning to
where the cricket sings;
There midnight's all a glimmer, and noon
a purple glow,
And evening full of the linnet's wings.*

*I will arise and go now, for always night
and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds
by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the
pavements grey,
I hear it in the deep heart's core.*

She Walks In Beauty

*She walks in beauty, like the night
Of cloudless climes and starry skies;
And all that's best of dark and bright
Meet in her aspect and her eyes;
Thus mellowed to that tender light
Which heaven to gaudy day denies.*

*One shade the more, one ray the less,
Had half impaired the nameless grace
Which waves in every raven tress,
Or softly lightens o'er her face;
Where thoughts serenely sweet express,
How pure, how dear their dwelling-place.*

*And on that cheek, and o'er that brow,
So soft, so calm, yet eloquent,
The smiles that win, the tints that glow,
But tell of days in goodness spent,
A mind at peace with all below,
A heart whose love is innocent!*

She Walks In Beauty

Lord Byron

*She walks in beauty, like the night
Of cloudless climes and starry skies;
And all that's best of dark and bright
Meet in her aspect and her eyes;
Thus mellowed to that tender light
Which heaven to gaudy day denies.*

*One shade the more, one ray the less,
Had half impaired the nameless grace
Which waves in every raven tress,
Or softly lightens o'er her face;
Where thoughts serenely sweet express,
How pure, how dear their dwelling-place.*

*And on that cheek, and o'er that brow,
So soft, so calm, yet eloquent,
The smiles that win, the tints that glow,
But tell of days in goodness spent,
A mind at peace with all below,
A heart whose love is innocent!*

Subject Summaries

Scripture

So then, brethren, stand firm and hold to the traditions which you were taught by us, either by word of mouth or by letter. 2 Thess 2:15

Jesus came and said to them. "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Spirit, teaching them to observe all I've commanded you; behold, I am with you always, to the close of the age." Mt 28:18-20

And I tell you, you are Peter and on this rock, I will build my Church, and the gates of Hades shall not prevail against it (shall not prevail against it). I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. Mt 16:18-19

A new commandment, I give to you, that you love another, even as I have loved you, that you also love one another. By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another. John 13:34-35

History

1. The 13 Colonies

Though late to arrive, English ships found their way
To the New World, and they were determined to stay.
First Jamestown in sixteen-o-seven was founded;
Along the coast colonies quickly abounded.
In sixteen and twenty the Mayflower sailed,
Its Compact a new kind of government hailed.

2. Absolute Monarchs in Europe

In seventeenth century wars of religion,
All Europe's nobility fought for position.
(King Ferdinand's men suffered defenestration!)
The Peace of Westphalia - sixteen-forty-eight -
Created a system of sovereign states.
Divine rights of kings triumphed over the law,
King Louis the fourteenth said "L'état, c'est moi."
Enlightenment thinkers like Locke and Rousseau,
Thought absolute power absolutely should go.

3. A Declaration of Independence – The Revolutionary War

From taxes on newspaper, sugar and tea,
American colonists longed to be free.
At Concord and Lexington first shots were fired,
George Washington's leadership all soon admired.
The Colonies thought it was just Common Sense,
To declare unto Britain their independence.
The date of the new nation's birth was then fixed:
The fourth of July, Seventeen seventy-six.

4. We, the People – A New Nation

From Yorktown the hard work of peace lay ahead
For the new government that George Washington led.
All hoped that the Congress and new Constitution
Would bring law and order, not more revolution.
Three branches of government kept power checked,
And freedom the Bill of Rights sought to protect.
Two senators came from each state in the nation,
And in the House voters had Representation.

5. The French Revolution

In Seventeen hundred eighty-nine,
The future of France was on the line.
King Louis called the three Estates,
Equality was the debate.
The Bastille stormed, soon none would dare
To contradict Robespierre.
Then terror reigned, as “free” from God
Behind the guillotine they trod.

6. The Napoleonic Wars

Napoleon’s army crossed Europe in glory,
But found Russian winter an unhappy story.
At Waterloo Wellington fought with great heart,
And there he defeated the Emperor Bonaparte.

7. Manifest Destiny, the Trail of Tears, and Texan Annexation

As Americans settled new land in the West,
The young country’s destiny seemed Manifest.
Congress, with President Jackson’s approval,
Took land in the South through forced Indian Removal.
Sam Houston, to Mexico’s lasting vexation,
Led Texans to fight for U.S. Annexation.

8. Slavery and Secession

On the question of slavery the states were divided,
Southern farmers depended on wealth it provided.
In the North, Abolitionists fought Compromise,
And in Kansas the sound of guns joined angry cries.
In sixty-one Southerners chose their own fate:
By secession they formed the Confederate States.

9. The Civil War

As Lincoln took office he vowed to restore
A more perfect union and readied for war.
Soon Fort Sumter fell and the fight had begun,
Many would perish before the North won.
The thirteenth amendment brought slavery’s end,
But by Reconstruction both sides hoped to mend.

Poetry I

Some One

Walter de la Mare

*Some one came knocking
At my wee, small door;
Someone came knocking;
I'm sure-sure-sure;
I listened, I opened,
I looked to left and right,
But nought there was a stirring
In the still dark night;*

*Only the busy beetle
Tap-tapping in the wall,
Only from the forest
The screech-owl's call,
Only the cricket whistling
While the dewdrops fall,
So I know not who came knocking,
At all, at all, at all.*

The Vulture

Hillaire Belloc

*The Vulture eats between his meals,
And that's the reason why
He very, very, rarely feels
As well as you and I.*

*His eye is dull, his head is bald,
His neck is growing thinner.
Oh! What a lesson for us all
To only eat at dinner!*

Hope

Emily Dickinson

*Hope is the thing with feathers
That perches in the soul,
And sings the tune—without the words,
And never stops at all,*

*And sweetest in the gale is heard;
And sore must be the storm
That could abash the little bird
That kept so many warm*

*I've heard it in the chilliest land,
And on the strangest sea;
Yet, never, in extremity,
It asked a crumb of me.*

My Gift

Christina Rossetti

*What can I give Him,
Poor as I am?
If I were a shepherd
I would bring a lamb,*

*If I were a Wise Man,
I would do my part,
Yet what can I give Him,
Give my Heart.*

Poetry II

The Lake Isle of Innisfree

William Butler Yeats

*I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree,
And a small cabin build there, of clay and
wattles made;
Nine bean-rows will I have there, a hive for
the honey-bee,
And live alone in the bee-loud glade.*

*And I shall have some peace there, for
peace comes dropping slow,
Dropping from the veils of the morning to
where the cricket sings;
There midnight's all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow,
And evening full of the linnet's wings.*

*I will arise and go now, for always night
and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds
by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the
pavements grey,
I hear it in the deep heart's core.*

Sonnet 116: Let me not to the marriage of true minds

William Shakespeare

*Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments. Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove.
O no! it is an ever-fixed mark
That looks on tempests and is never shaken;*

*It is the star to every wand'ring bark,
Whose worth's unknown, although his height be taken.*

*Love's not Time's fool, though rosy lips and cheeks
Within his bending sickle's compass come;
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
But bears it out even to the edge of doom.
If this be error and upon me prov'd,
I never writ, nor no man ever lov'd.*

She Walks In Beauty

Lord Byron

*She walks in beauty, like the night
Of cloudless climes and starry skies;
And all that's best of dark and bright
Meet in her aspect and her eyes;
Thus mellowed to that tender light
Which heaven to gaudy day denies.*

*One shade the more, one ray the less,
Had half impaired the nameless grace
Which waves in every raven tress,
Or softly lightens o'er her face;
Where thoughts serenely sweet express,
How pure, how dear their dwelling-place.*

*And on that cheek, and o'er that brow,
So soft, so calm, yet eloquent,
The smiles that win, the tints that glow,
But tell of days in goodness spent,
A mind at peace with all below,
A heart whose love is innocent!*
